CAPA Access Scholarships
CAPA International Education is pleased to offer the 2013 Access Scholarships to students who identify with one or more groups whose representation within the study abroad community has been unequal to its representation within the United States population. Underrepresentation in study abroad includes: racial, ethnic, students with disabilities, gender orientation, sexual orientation, age, field of study, veterans, and first-generation college students. For more information on statistics of participation in international education, visit the Open Doors Report. The Open Doors report features participation data as broken down by several factors within the student profile. The above link features the most recent data of education abroad participants.

CAPA will award 5 scholarships in the amount of $3,000 for Semester Programs and 4 scholarships in the amount of $1500 for Summer Programs.
Study Again Scholarships
If you studied abroad on a regular or customized CAPA program, you will automatically receive a $600 scholarship to study abroad again on a regular CAPA semester program, or a $300 scholarship toward a regular CAPA summer program. Students studying on another custom program are not eligible, and Affiliate students will not receive the Regular Affiliate Grant in addition to the Study Again with CAPA Scholarship, but are eligible to apply for the special Affiliate Need-Based Scholarship.

Accommodation Fund
CAPA International Education is committed to facilitating a learning abroad experience for students with disabilities. We encourage the disclosure of disability and use a collaborative team approach that involves our support staff both stateside and abroad, the student's study abroad adviser and disability resources coordinator, and of course the student, to determine the best means of accommodation. While some accommodations are cost-free, we recognize that additional expenses may be incurred. In an effort to defray such expenses, we have established the ACCESS Fund. We wish you a successful, exciting, and enriching time abroad and we are happy to support you in any way possible.
